

Wood Stone Ceramic Log Set for Gas-Fired Ovens

Job Name: _____

Model: _____

Item #: _____

AVAILABLE FOR ALL WOOD STONE GAS-FIRED OVENS

Wood Stone gas-fired stone hearth ovens are designed to provide the same consistent, intense heat as our wood-fired ovens. Now the beauty of a wood-fired stone hearth oven can also be obtained, without some of the challenges of using wood as a fuel source.

These realistic looking ceramic log sets are designed especially for Wood Stone gas-fired, stone hearth ovens. They come with a protective stainless steel grate and fit neatly over the radiant burner. When silhouetted by the light of the oven's bright radiant flame, the illusion of a real wood fire is created.

Ceramic log sets are available for all GG and RFG models; they can be shipped with the oven or added as accessories later.

Wood Stone High-Temp Ceramic Baking Slates

Job Name: _____

Model #: WS-SLATE-(1813,1826)

Item #: _____

Turn any Oven into a Brick Oven.

The heart of a Wood Stone oven is now available for your conventional rack or convection oven. We are now offering baking slates manufactured from the same ceramic used in the construction of our stone hearth ovens. The slates are cast into standard sheet pans so they are conveniently sized at 18" x 26" (full sheet) and 13" x 18" (half sheet).

In addition to enhancing the crust properties of pizza and bread products, the high temperature ceramic slates will help the oven hold on to valuable heat that is normally lost every time the door is opened.
